

State Library Helps Family in Need During the Holidays

Each year, the staff of the South Carolina State Library partners with Palmetto Health's Holiday, Helpings and Hope program to provide gifts to a family in need. The program supports cancer and blood disorder patients and their families. This year, many gifts were delivered to one such family in need.

According to Acting Director, Leesa Benggio, "We are happy and humbled to be a part of this wonderful program, which aids families in transition. Libraries are an integral part of their communities, and aiding those locally is part of our commitment to South Carolina, especially during times of need."

Pictured (L-R) are State Library staff members Debbie Anderson, Administrative Coordinator, Danielle Woodard, Accountant/Fiscal Analyst, Leesa Benggio, Acting Director, Jessica Dame, Metadata Librarian, and Paula James, Director of Finance and Administration.

For more information about Palmetto Health's Holiday, Helpings and Hope program, please contact Carson Gross at Carson.Gross@PalmettoHealth.org.

In This Issue:

SCHealthData Website	2
Learn MORE About SCSL	2
York Library Honors Volunteers	3
Staff Visit USC Herbarium	4
Government Documents	5
Looking Back at 2014	6
SCLENDS	7
The Friendship 9: 53 Years Later	8
Upcoming CE Events	9
Legos in the Library	10
Lighting for Special Collections	11
New Ebrary Books	12
What's New in Discus	13
Best of 2014 on KitLit TV	14
Featured Service: SC Library Jobs	14
In the News...	15
Digital Collections Highlight	16

More is brought to you by south carolina

STATE LIBRARY

statelibrary.sc.gov

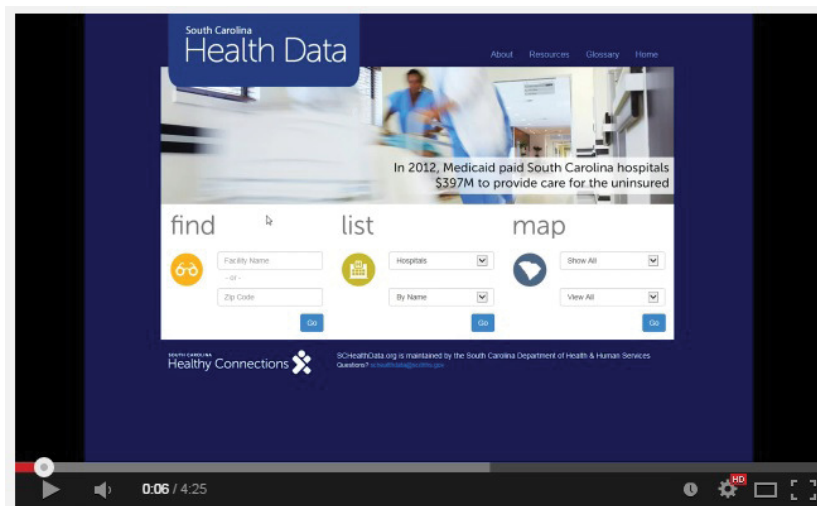

SC Health Data Website Overview

Looking for information about South Carolina healthcare and hospital costs? Check out our most recent screencast that provides an overview of how to navigate the SCHealthData.org website:

<http://bit.ly/1vnlByt>

Please visit our YouTube channel to find more great screencasts and recorded webinars:

<http://bit.ly/1xtDnV1>

Events Calendar

Have you visited our calendar of events lately? Be sure to check out the training sessions and classes to learn more!

<http://statelibrary.sc.libcal.com>

Learn MORE About the Services and Programs of the South Carolina State Library

Do you want to learn more about the services and programs of the South Carolina State Library? Register today for one of our monthly free 30 minute LIVE webinars!

January 27, 2015 - 3:30 p.m.

February 18, 2015 - 10:30 a.m.

March 20, 2015 - 2:30 p.m.

To register, please visit our events calendar at <http://statelibrary.sc.libcal.com>.

For more information, please contact Dr. Curtis R. Rogers, Communications Director at 803-734-8928 or crogers@statelibrary.sc.gov.

Friends of the York County Library Honors Volunteers

The Friends of the York County Library recently announced that Martha Ferguson is the 2014 recipient of the Joann W. McMaster Volunteer of the Year award at a reception to honor Friends of the Library volunteers. The award is named in honor of Joann McMaster, who helped found the Friends of the York County Library organization in 1975 and served as its first president.

A Friends of the Library volunteer for several years, Martha has served as Friends of the Library president, coordinates volunteers for book sales and other events, and volunteers on a weekly basis at the library. She has logged over 250 volunteer hours in 2014.

Martha and her husband, Harry, have been Fort Mill residents for 30 years. They have 2 adult sons, Adam and Brent, and 5 granddaughters. She also has 3 stepchildren.

Martha has most enjoyed meeting new friends through her involvement with the Friends of the Library, especially her association with other book lovers. She likes the exchange of information about authors and books that others are reading. She is also an active volunteer with the Fort Mill Community Playhouse.

The Friends also recognized nearly 100 volunteers, who donated over 3,000 hours on behalf of York County Libraries. The Friends of the Library hold used book sales and other events to raise funds for library programs. They are the major sponsor of the summer reading programs for all ages and other library needs not provided for in the library budget. For more information on the Friends of the Library, visit <http://www.yclibrary.org> or call 803-981-5837.

State Library Staff Visit USC Herbarium

The A. C. Moore Herbarium is an important part of the Department of Biological Sciences at the University of South Carolina, Columbia.

Founded in 1907 by Dr. Andrew Charles Moore, the original collection of dried plant specimens is now part of an ever-growing collection. Total holdings are just over 110,000 specimens, making the A. C. Moore Herbarium the largest in the state of South Carolina.

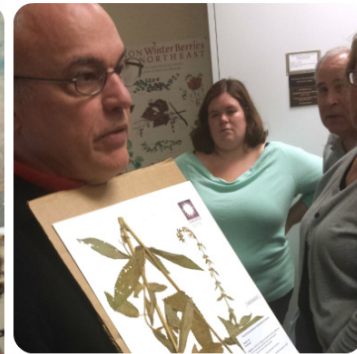

Researchers and visitors find a diverse collection of vascular and nonvascular plant material primarily from the Southeastern United States and more specifically from South Carolina.

Now over 100 years old, the A. C. Moore Herbarium continues to be an indispensable resource for botanical knowledge.

State library staff members learned how the Herbarium preserves and catalogs its specimens and details about an upcoming digitization project with USC's Digital Collections. It's certainly a unique and fascinating collection! Special thanks to Dr. John Nelson, Herbarium Chief Curator, for the educational tour.

For more information about USC's A. C. Moore Herbarium, please visit <http://www.herbarium.org>.

New South Carolina State Government Documents for November 2014

The South Carolina Digital State Documents Depository provides access to publications produced by state agencies and state-supported academic institutions. These publications provide citizens with crucial information about state government, including statistics, annual accountability reports, and data on a wide variety of topics related to the state. The new South Carolina State Documents monthly publication provides a description, author, and link to the full-text for each new agency document published in October.

This month features many Certified Public Manager (CPM) Program projects, reports written by program participants of the CPM program of the South Carolina Budget and Control Board, Office of Human Resources. The CPM Program is a nationally accredited management development program for managers and supervisors in South Carolina state government.

The Clemson Sandhill Research Education Center in Columbia also published a weekly newsletter with information about its seasonal Farmers Market. The newsletter includes home and garden tips, photographs, and recipes.

New South Carolina State Documents

A Monthly Report from the SC State Library

November 2014

These publications were produced by South Carolina state agencies and state-supported academic institutions. All titles are available online through the State Documents Depository.

Agriculture

Clemson University
Clemson Sandhill Research Education Center

Clemson Sandhill Farmers Market : market flash – 2014-11-04 Market Flash

Clemson Sandhill Farmers Market : market flash – 2014-11-11

Clemson Sandhill Farmers Market : market flash – 2014-11-18

Clemson Sandhill Farmers Market : market flash – 2014-11-25

OCLC#: 896127572

The Market Flash newsletter provides information about the activities at the Sandhill Farmers Market and other markets in the Columbia area. The newsletter also provides links to recipes, planting tips, Clemson University, the South Carolina Farmer's Market, and other relevant consumer information.

Judiciary

South Carolina Administrative Law Court

Rules of procedure for the Administrative Law Court – 2013-05-01

Rules of procedure for the Administrative Law Court – 2014-04-27

OCLC#: 898065490

This guide provides rules to be followed by the Administrative Law Court. These rules are applicable to all matters within the jurisdiction of the Court, whether they are contested cases under the Administrative Procedures Act or heard pursuant to a constitutional command for a hearing.

Annual Accountability Reports

Clemson University Public Service Activities

Fiscal Year 2013-14 Accountability Report - 2014 Annual Reports & Annual Accountability Reports

OCLC#: 41075865

Clemson University Public Service Activities reports to the Office of State Budget its annual accountability report that includes a discussion and analysis, major accomplishments, strategic planning and performance measurement.

View this issue online at <http://1.usa.gov/1vD9ajb>.

Looking Back at 2014

Be sure to look through some of our selected photos from 2014! <http://bit.ly/1vFV40x>

For more event photos, please visit the State Library's flickr site at <http://bit.ly/1CTpAMd>.

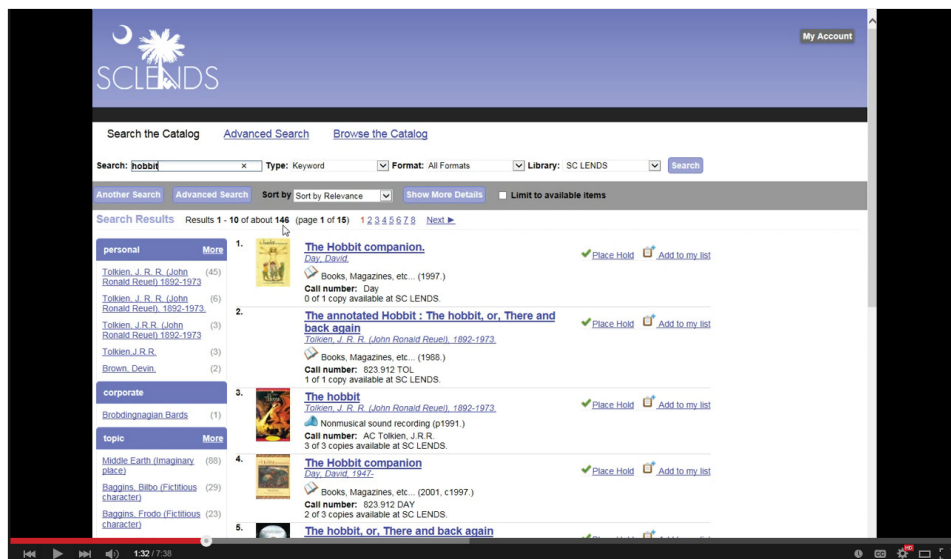

Getting the Most out of SCLENDS

Do you want to get the most out of our online catalog? In this 7 minute screencast, you can learn the best ways to search our online catalog, SCLENDS, to get the best results. Check it out today!

<http://bit.ly/1rxGA6u>

Visit the South Carolina State Library's YouTube channel to find recorded webinars and much more!

<http://bit.ly/13Hqk7K>

Congratulations to SCSL Staff Members

During our recent staff development day and winter luncheon, two staff members were recognized.

Pictured top with Acting Director, Leesa Benggio is Edward Windhaus, Talking Book Services mail clerk, who was congratulated on his recent graduation from the University of South Carolina with a bachelor's degree in Tourism Management.

Pictured below is Rob Lindsey, User Experience Designer, who was awarded staff member of the quarter for his work on the redesign of the State Library's website and the redesign of six additional State Library department and program websites. We also wish Rob good luck on his new position as webmaster for Lander University in Greenwood, South Carolina.

The Friendship 9: 53 Years Later

Civil Rights Icons, the Friendship 9, Set To Have Convictions Vacated 53 Years Later Thanks To Local Author Influenced By Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. And The King Center

Surviving members of the Friendship 9, a group of students who attended Friendship Junior College in Rock Hill, South Carolina, during the high tide of the modern civil rights movement, were recently notified by their lawyer that his intentions are to file a motion in South Carolina's 16th Circuit Court to vacate their trespassing conviction that resulted from their arrest on January 31, 1961. The young activists were detained after they nonviolently protested the separate but equal legal precedent relative to public accommodations by sitting at an all-white lunch counter at McCrory's Variety Store in Rock Hill's downtown district.

As part of the Friendship 9, David Williamson, Jr., James Wells, Willie McCleod, W.T. "Dub" Massey, Clarence Henry Graham, John Gaines, Thomas Gaither, Mack Workman, and Robert McCullough were relentless in their fight for equality. Their activism in the state known for legendary statesmen and strict constructionists, particularly, John C. Calhoun and Strom Thurmond, helped implement the practice of "Jail, No Bail"—a strategy of civil disobedience that is as old as the Hebrew Scriptures that called for the accused to accept punishment based on principles. Their rallying cry, "Jail, No Bail," came from their deeply-held belief that they should not willfully bow to a corrupt system. Their tactic was crucial in shifting the financial burden of the civil rights movement from the oppressed to the oppressor. Though the sit-in movement started a year before in Greensboro, N.C., the Friendship 9 were among the first students to refuse to pay bail after being sentenced to 30 days of hard labor.

In 2014, Kimberly Johnson, author of No Fear for Freedom: The Story of the Friendship 9, became involved with The Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change in Atlanta, Georgia. As part of her work with The King Center's Nonviolence Opportunity Watch (NOW) Encounter, a Summer Experience, she was exposed to, and digested, Dr. King's philosophy on unjust laws after reading his Letter from the Birmingham Jail. Johnson brought evidence of the unjust laws used against the Friendship 9 to the attention of 16th Circuit Solicitor Kevin Brackett. He agreed with Johnson and determined that Dr. King was correct when he said in 1965 that "the arc of the moral universe is long, but it bends toward justice." Dr. Bernice A. King, the CEO of The King Center in Atlanta, Georgia, and youngest daughter of the Nobel Laureate and Mrs. Coretta Scott King, said of her father that "his teachings are still relevant forty-seven years after his assassination because they compel mankind to confront injustice wherever it exists." King, a lawyer and an ordained minister continued: "There is no statute of limitations for remedying an injustice in the High Moral Court of History. Like my father, I believe that the eloquent poet, James Russell Lowell, was correct when he wrote that 'Truth forever on the scaffold, wrong forever on the throne, yet that scaffold sways the future.'"

The court date is set for January 28, 2015.

The Production, No Fear For Freedom The Musical will be at McGirt Auditorium Emmett Scott Recreation Center in Rock Hill, SC, January 30, 7:30 p.m., January 31, 2:00 p.m. matinee and January 31 FINAL show at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $20.00. This is to help start the Friendship 9 foundation for scholarships for SC students.

Also there will be a FREE preview show for the York County School District students on January 29, 2015 with dialogue with the Friendship 9.

For more information, please contact Kimberly Johnson at 910-988-0573 or visit the No Fear for Freedom website at <http://www.nofearforfreedom.com>.

Upcoming Continuing Education Events

Learn MORE about the South Carolina State Library

Tuesday, January 27, 2015, 3:30 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

By attending this free online meeting, you can learn what the South Carolina State Library has to offer! We'll review our website and talk about upcoming events, specialized services, and statewide programs.

Register: <http://bit.ly/1xex9cR>

Sharing Links to Discus Resources

Wednesday, January 28, 2015, 3:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Discus – South Carolina's Virtual Library provides amazing library resources to citizens of our state. Do you want to include links to Discus articles, images, or videos in a webpage, reading list, or email? It's not as simple as copying and pasting from your browser. The session will show you how to obtain the appropriate persistent URLs to share and connect with others in South Carolina!

Register: <http://bit.ly/1CRSIDq>

Facilitation Training

Thursday, January 29, 2015, 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

Anne Sinclair of Resource Associates, Inc. will lead this facilitation training. You are invited to send two staff to this free training. Attendees should be interested in learning how to be comfortable in leading a group through a discussion process in a non-judgmental manner, improving listening skills and the ability to handle unexpected situations, and general best practices for facilitating a group.

Register: <http://bit.ly/1vEAIvP>

Current Issues: Exploring the Viewpoint Resources in Discus

Tuesday, February 10, 2015, 11:00 a.m. - noon.

The Discus collection provides two excellent resources focusing on contemporary social issues: Opposing Viewpoints In Context and Points of View Reference Center. Both resources promote critical-thinking skills and information literacy and are invaluable when preparing debates, position papers, argumentative essays, or persuasive speeches. Join this session to learn the basics of using each resource effectively.

Register: <http://bit.ly/1xv39LL>

Learn MORE about the South Carolina State Library

Wednesday, February 18, 2015, 10:30 a.m. - 11:00 a.m.

By attending this free online meeting, you can learn what the South Carolina State Library has to offer! We'll review our website and talk about upcoming events, specialized services, and statewide programs.

Register: <http://bit.ly/13HtY1c>

New to Discus? Start Here!

Wednesday, February 25, 2015, 11:00 a.m. - noon.

If you're new to the South Carolina library community or just need some refresher information, this free online introductory session is for you. It provides an overview of South Carolina's Virtual Library: why it exists, the users it serves, how to access it, and a brief look at some of the most frequently-used electronic resources in the Discus collection.

Register: <http://bit.ly/1HZxq53>

View more events and register online at statelibrary.sc.libcal.com

Legos in the Library

The Orangeburg County Library has been greatly enjoying Legos!

The library recently started a program titled Little Learners Love Legos! It takes place on Wednesday afternoons from 4:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. The program is open to all 4-7 year olds in the area and has been advertised in the "Whoo....Knew?" as well as the Orangeburg Times and Democrat newspaper.

The children that have come are very excited to play with the Legos. They all seem to have experience with them and love the idea of making whatever they like as well as having such an extensive selection of pieces.

The combination of story and play has come together nicely. The Children's Services librarian conducts the story time portion in the corner of the children's department and the children like to lie on the stuffed animals while listening. After the story the group moves over to felt covered tables. When the program is over the children fill out index cards with a name for their creation and their own name. Their creations are then placed in the library's display case until the next week.

Jessica Nuckolls, Children's Services/Young Adult Coordinator stated, "I believe that the program is off to a great start and will only pick up steam as it continues."

For more information, please contact Jessica Nuckolls at 803-533-5858 or jnuckolls@orangeburg.org.

■ Today's events

- "Little Lego Learners" — 4-5 p.m., Orangeburg County Library. 803-533-5868.

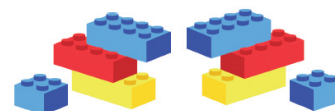

Little Learners Love Legos!

Wednesdays

4:00 p.m.

Calling all creative kids! If you love making cool stuff, we have a program for you! Make buildings, vehicles, animals, and other neat creations with Legos. If you can imagine it, you can make it! This program is for children aged 4 to 6 years old. A special story time is presented before each maker session. Programs are limited to the first 20 participants. All children must be accompanied by an adult.

December 3rd
December 10th
December 17th
January 7th
January 14th
January 21st
January 28th
February 4th
February 11th
February 18th
February 25th

Submit Your Library News

Do you have an interesting library-related story, event, or program that you would like to see in the next issue of More?

Please email it to crogers@statelibrary.sc.gov and include photos or images as separate files.

State Library Upgrades Lighting for Special Collections

All of the standard florescent bulbs above the State Library's rare books collection have been replaced with ultraviolet (UV) filtering bulbs.

Because the lights stay on consistently throughout each day, these specialized bulbs protect the rare books as they are in book cases with non-UV filtering glass. The UV rays produced by florescent lights over time can cause light damage, just as the sunlight would.

Ultraviolet rays from the sun and from artificial lighting pose dangers to both people and products. UV radiation can cause a number of health problems in humans, including skin and eye maladies.

UV rays can harm products by causing fading of colors, the breakdown of organic materials, and gradual, but lasting, damage to fibers and base materials. Fluorescent lights don't produce UV rays as powerful as those produced by the sun, but over time they can cause the same ill effects.

Yellow/gold UV blocking lamps use filters to absorb the harmful rays and radiation produced by fluorescent lights. These filters are most often made from specialty polyester materials which block ultraviolet rays while still allowing light to pass through. This material is generally yellow/gold, but can also be found in other colors.

Yellow/gold UV blocking lamps can use bulbs with built-in filters, or the filters can be added to existing fluorescent lights.

For more information, please contact Jessica Dame, Metadata Librarian at jdame@statelibrary.sc.gov or 803-734-0583.

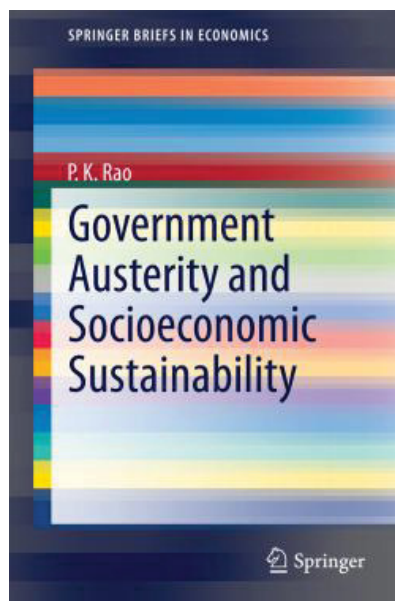

New eBrary Books from the State Library

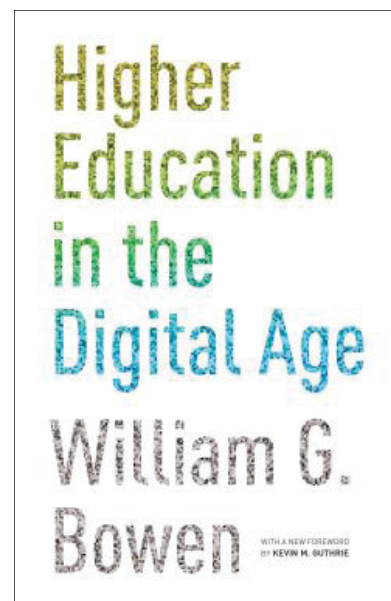

Ethics Desk Reference for Counselors (2nd Edition) by Barnett, Jeffrey E. and Johnson, W. Brad, November 2014

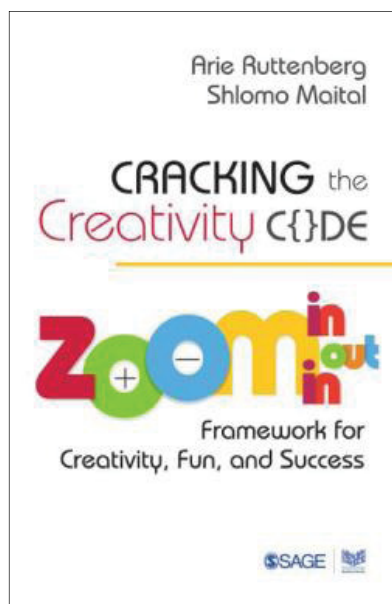

Government Austerity and Socioeconomic Sustainability by Rao, P.K., January 2015

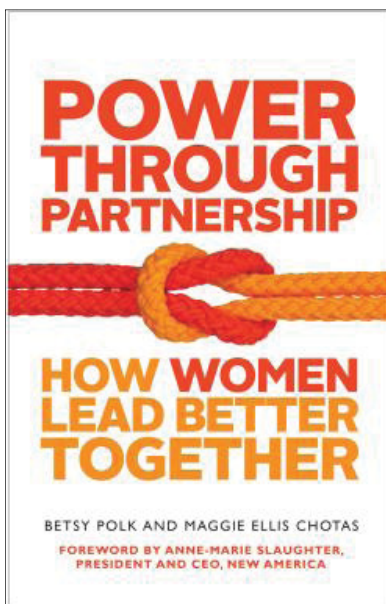

Higher Education in the Digital Age by Bowen, William G. and Guthrie, Kevin M., January 2015

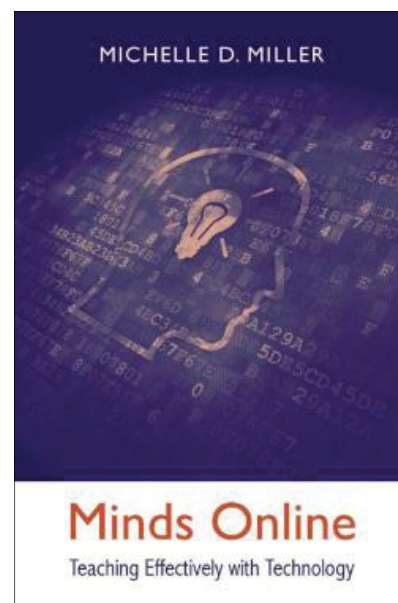

Cracking the Creativity Code: Zoom in/Zoom out/Zoom in Framework for Creativity, Fun, and Success by Ruttenberg, Arie and Maital, Shlomo, September 2014

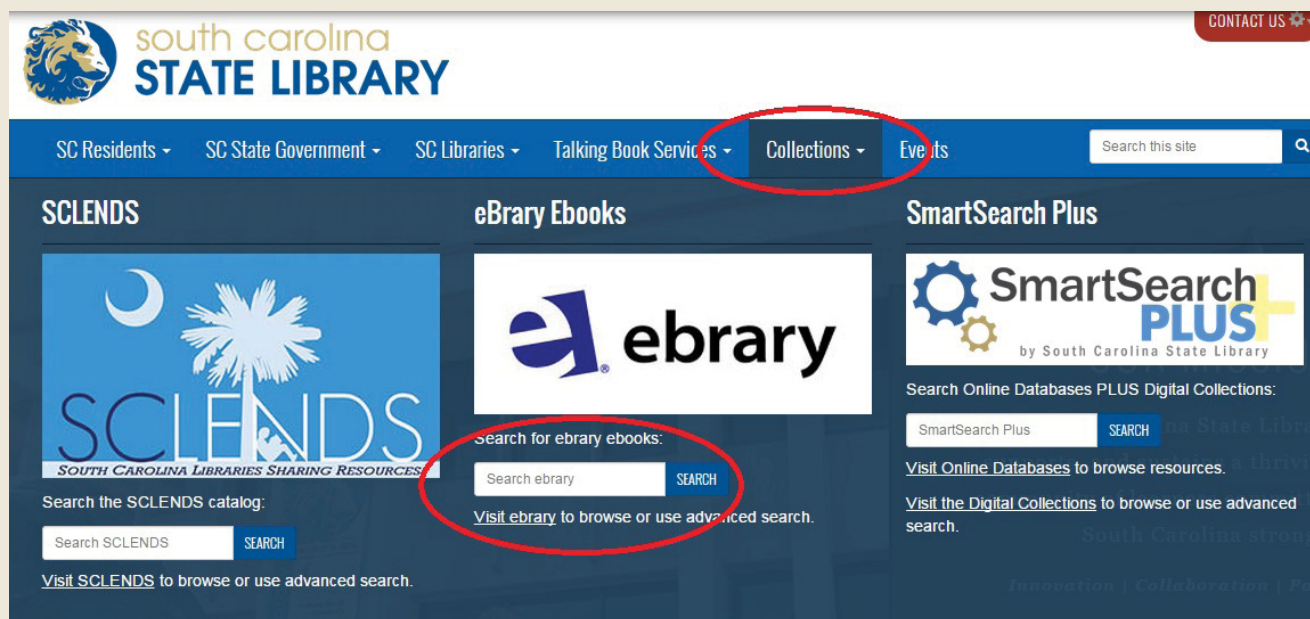

Power Through Partnership : How Women Lead Better Together by Polk, Betsy; Chotas, Maggie Ellis; Slaughter, Anne-Marie, November 2014

Minds Online : Teaching Effectively with Technology by Miller, Michelle D., October 2014

To access eBrary Ebooks, visit <http://statelibrary.sc.gov> and click on the Collections link, then click on eBrary Ebooks or search directly from the page.

What's New in Discus - SC's Virtual Library

Kids InfoBits

The Encyclopedia Britannica Elementary Collection now appears in Kids InfoBits. It is a collection of 63 nonfiction ebooks with simple text and lots of images and is geared to the lower elementary grades. Examples of book titles include Creeping Crawlers, Even or Odd?, and Measuring: Seconds, Minutes, and Hours.

The "Highlights and Notes" tool, explained below, is also available in Kids InfoBits.

Biography In Context, Opposing Viewpoints In Context

Now users of these products can take notes easily without opening a separate program. The "Highlights and Notes" tool allows you to select text from a document, highlight the important sections, add your own notes, and save to a new "Highlighted Articles" page. Within the same session, the highlighted sections can be easily viewed, printed, downloaded, or sent via email (no user account within the database is required).

Learn more at the Discus website, <http://scdiscus.org>.

Subscribe to the Discus Monitor email newsletter at <http://conta.cc/1Hh1KcL>.

Best of 2014 on KidLit TV

Best of 2014:
Watch StoryMakers and Red Carpet Interviews

KLTV Exclusives

KidLit TV StoryMakers with Rita Williams-Garcia	KidLit TV Pat Cummings and H. Chuku Lee	KidLit TV Holiday Special!	National Book Awards 2014 Red Carpet

KidLit TV StoryMakers with Tara Lazar	KidLit TV StoryMakers with Dan Yaccarino	KidLit TV StoryMakers with S. Chris Shirley	KidLit TV StoryMakers with Roxie Munro

What a whirlwind month and a half ... wait has it been just 6 weeks since the launch of KidLit TV?! Watch the first season of StoryMakers and Red Carpet interviews with Neil Gaiman, Jacqueline Woodson, Jon Scieszka, Hilary Knight, Rita Williams-Garcia, Jerry Pinkney, and many more!

KidLit TV is a community of authors, illustrators, educators, and parents all working together to bring great books to kids. It is KidLit TV's hope to reinforce an appreciation of reading that children will carry with them for the rest of their lives.

Learn more at <http://kidlit.tv>.

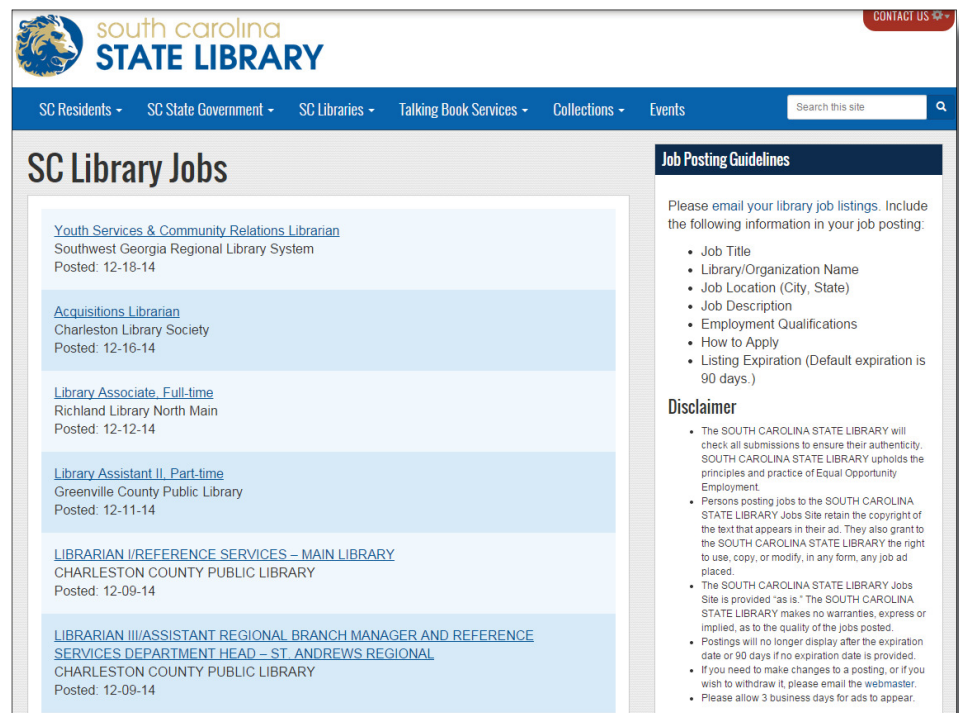

Featured Service: SC Library Jobs

Library staff members may submit library employment opportunities to be posted to our SC Library Jobs page.

Job postings last for 90 days and may be emailed as text or an attached document. All submissions are checked for accuracy and may be edited for posting.

Please visit the SC Library Jobs page and submit your listing today!

For more information, please contact Dr. Curtis R. Rogers, Communications Director at 803-734-8928 or crogers@statelibrary.sc.gov.

The screenshot shows the South Carolina State Library website with a navigation bar including links for SC Residents, SC State Government, SC Libraries, Talking Book Services, Collections, and Events. The main heading is "SC Library Jobs". Below this, there are several job listings with details such as the position title, the library system, and the posting date. On the right side, there is a "Job Posting Guidelines" section with a list of required information for job postings and a "Disclaimer" section.

SC Library Jobs

- Youth Services & Community Relations Librarian
Southwest Georgia Regional Library System
Posted: 12-18-14
- Acquisitions Librarian
Charleston Library Society
Posted: 12-16-14
- Library Associate, Full-time
Richland Library North Main
Posted: 12-12-14
- Library Assistant II, Part-time
Greenville County Public Library
Posted: 12-11-14
- LIBRARIAN I/REFERENCE SERVICES – MAIN LIBRARY
CHARLESTON COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY
Posted: 12-09-14
- LIBRARIAN III/ASSISTANT REGIONAL BRANCH MANAGER AND REFERENCE SERVICES DEPARTMENT HEAD – ST. ANDREWS REGIONAL
CHARLESTON COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY
Posted: 12-09-14

Job Posting Guidelines

Please email your library job listings. Include the following information in your job posting:

- Job Title
- Library/Organization Name
- Job Location (City, State)
- Job Description
- Employment Qualifications
- How to Apply
- Listing Expiration (Default expiration is 90 days.)

Disclaimer

- The SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY will check all submissions to ensure their authenticity. SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY upholds the principles and practice of Equal Opportunity Employment.
- Persons posting jobs to the SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY Jobs Site retain the copyright of the text that appears in their ad. They also grant to the SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY the right to use, copy, or modify, in any form, any job ad placed.
- The SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY Jobs Site is provided "as is." The SOUTH CAROLINA STATE LIBRARY makes no warranties, express or implied, as to the quality of the jobs posted.
- Postings will no longer display after the expiration date or 90 days if no expiration date is provided.
- If you need to make changes to a posting, or if you wish to withdraw it, please email the webmaster.
- Please allow 3 business days for ads to appear.

In the News...

Before The Internet, Librarians Would 'Answer Everything' — And Still Do

Before Google there was — that paragon of accuracy and calm — the librarian. The New York Public Library recently came upon a box of questions posed to the library from the 1940s to the '80s — a time capsule from an era when humans consulted other humans for answers to their daily questions and conundrums. <http://n.pr/147wY8q>

15 Author Pages You Should Like on Facebook

Want more bookishness in your Facebook feed? Check out these wicked awesome author fan pages. <http://bit.ly/1zMLJKI>

Libraries without physical books find a niche in San Antonio

Next summer Bexar County (Texas) will open a library in a housing project on the West side of San Antonio. There will be iMacs, iPads, laptops and hundreds of ereaders, but no physical books. <http://wapo.st/1396phu>

Podcast: Neil Gaiman and Martin Rowson on censorship

In the next issue of Index on Censorship magazine, fantasy writer Neil Gaiman is interviewed by political cartoonist Martin Rowson about censorship, offence and how graphic novels stir controversy. <http://bit.ly/13HJXMN>

Fire HD and HDX: How to Read ePub eBooks

Amazon has made some subtle changes over the past couple years that makes reading ePub ebooks on Fire tablets somewhat easier. <http://bit.ly/1y4yfcR>

Personalized Book Recommendations Now on Goodreads on the Fire Tablet!

Now you can access book recommendations personalized just for you inside the Goodreads app on Fire HD 6, Fire HD 7, and Fire HDX 8.9, as well as the Kindle Fire HD, Kindle Fire HDX, and Kindle Fire HDX 8.9. <http://bit.ly/1tinbCd>

The Everything Book: Reading in the Age of Amazon

Amazon won the book war. In a series of rare interviews, the company tells us what's next. <http://bit.ly/1sA9dv1>

A Piece of Yale's Library Is Brought Back to Life

"Few works can equal it as a monument of lifelessness and decadence; none can surpass it in extravagance and falsity." Writing in an undergraduate review called The Harkness Hoot in 1930, William Harlan Hale had nothing good to say about the new Sterling Memorial Library, "built at a cost of about $7 million by Yale University, and safely constructed — alas! — for the ages." <http://nyti.ms/1D4CRyH>

Hand-Built Library on Wheels Helps Retired Teacher Spread the Love of Reading

Antonio La Cava, a retired Italian schoolteacher, decided that after 42 years of teaching, he could do even more to spread the love of reading to children. So in 2003, he bought a used Ape motorbike and modified it to create a portable library that houses 700 books. He's been traveling in the "Bibliomotocarro" ever since. <http://bit.ly/1cl07dm>

Book News: For A Deeper Sleep, Forgo The E-Reader Before Bed

When picking up a book before bed, sleepy readers ought to give some thought not just to what they read but also how they read. It doesn't matter how boring the material may be; if you're plodding through it on an ereader, a new study shows it'll likely be tougher to fall asleep — and to get a good rest while you're at it. <http://n.pr/1zufeAT>

In a Kingdom of Books, Nation's Librarian Champions Digital Age

"It's the greatest revolution since the invention of moveable type and the printing press," said Billington, who championed the World Digital Library, which began linking libraries around the world in 2009. "This was big." <http://bit.ly/1HfrVk3>

South Carolina State Library Digital Collections Highlight

Safety City

Published by the South Carolina Department of Public Safety in 2002, Safety City is a coloring book that can be downloaded and printed out for free! Get your copy today.

You can view this document online at <http://dc.statelibrary.sc.gov/handle/10827/9357>.

About the South Carolina State Library

South Carolina State Library

statelibrary.sc.gov

PO Box 11469

1500 Senate Street

Columbia, SC 29211

803-734-8666

Leesa Benggio, Acting Director

Board of Trustees

Loretta K. Green, 1st District

Deborah Hyler - Chair, 7th District

Marty R. McKenzie, 6th District

Martha Murtiashaw, 3rd District

Suzanne W. Rast - Vice Chair, 2nd District

Michael G. Simmons, 5th District

Alanna I. Wildman, 4th District

The South Carolina State Library is the primary administrator of federal and state support for the state's libraries. The Library is a national model for innovation, collaboration, leadership and effectiveness. The Library's mission is to optimize South Carolina's investment in library and information services.

In 1969, as the result of action by the General Assembly, the State Library Board was redesignated as the South Carolina State Library and assumed responsibility for public library development, library service for state institutions, service for the blind and physically handicapped, and library service to state government agencies. Headquartered in Columbia, S.C., the Library is funded by the state of South Carolina, by the federal government through the Institute of Museum and Library Services, and other sources.

For more information, visit statelibrary.sc.gov or call 803-734-8666.

More, the Newsletter for South Carolina Libraries, is published online monthly by the South Carolina State Library.

ISSN 1554-5768

Dr. Curtis Rogers, Editor 803-734-8928

crogers@statelibrary.sc.gov

Amanda Stone & Debbie Anderson, Copy Editors

astone@statelibrary.sc.gov | danderson@statelibrary.sc.gov